

Dispute With Johnson May Be Renewed at Hyde Park Residence

WASHINGTON — Some of the turbulent scenes which took place inside the White House when the President was trying to persuade General Hugh S. Johnson to take a back seat in the Blue Eagle Roost have just leaked out and indicate the difficulties in store when the two men get together again at Hyde Park.

In last week's conferences Roosevelt attempted to be tactful. With his usual disarming manner he suggested to Johnson that he go abroad to study European government methods of regulating industry as preparation for formulating plans to be submitted to the next Congress for a permanent remodeling of the NRA.

The effect on Johnson was instantaneous and extraordinary. An amazing scene ensued. Despite his repeated assertions about being ready and willing to step out when the President gave the signal, Johnson bridled in sudden anger.

"You are just easing me out the way you did George Peek," he retorted.

"The President leaned back and continued to smoke. 'Tut, tut, Hugh,' he chided, between cigarette puffs. 'George Peek was not as you put it, 'eased out.' He undertook a very important work, and he is doing a most excellent job of it.'"

Johnson refused to be appeased. Boiling he rose, strode out of the White House, went directly to his office and began writing in long-hand a letter of resignation.

When he finished, the letter had been typed, it covered two and one-half pages. He sent it to the White House by his chauffeur for immediate delivery to the President.

Roosevelt had already retired, was reading in bed, when the letter reached him. It put him in something of a quandary.

With the Congressional campaign getting under way, Roosevelt realized the political danger of an open break with Johnson. Also he has always retained a personal affection for the hair-triggered ex-trooper, and never parts with any associate in anger if he can help it.

So he reached for a pad on his bedside table, and dashed off a cordial little note to Johnson in his own handwriting. He refused to accept the resignation, invited the General to Hyde Park after taking a two weeks' rest.

Armored Car

Super-Dick J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Justice Department's sleuthing bureau, has a new armored car but is sensitive about having the public know about it.

When the United States News discovered the fact and printed it, Hoover immediately sent one of his operators to call on the paper. "We're just interested in the background of this story," he explained.

"You mean you want to know where the story leaked from?" suggested forthright Clarence Marshall, the editor.

"Well—anything you'd like to tell us."

"All right, I'll give you a ring if there is any thing I can tell you."

Hoover is still guessing as to who spilled the news on his armored buggy.

Sensations

The Senate Munitions Investigating Committee, which begins its work today, has been making a blue print of public psychology. It plans to pop a new and outstanding horror every day the investigation continues.

In fact on some days there is to be a "horror" for the afternoon papers and another for the morning editions. Complete impartiality.

Here are some of the horrors in stock:

How American munitions makers tie up with foreign firms in agreements that their plants will not be destroyed in case of hostilities.

How one American firm sold vital nitrate-making processes to Japan under the guise that it was producing fertilizer.

How American firms upset the State Department's peace plans in

Bottle Truck Tosses Glass Into Route 23

Although 25 persons were involved in five auto wrecks on Pickaway-co's crowded highways over the week-end and holiday, only three were seriously hurt, a checkup by The Herald revealed Tuesday.

The list of wrecks was topped by the smashup of a Pontiac sedan at Mingo and E. Main-sts early Sunday, which resulted in the arrest of three Buffalo, N. Y. murder suspects. Two of the occupants, Braunslaus Selak, 19, and Alice Zimmerman, 25, were treated at Berger hospital for their injuries.

The third person to sustain serious injury in the five accidents was Earl W. Halstead, of 5925 Gallia-st, Portsmouth, driver for the Play Distributing Co., of Columbus, who suffered painful head injuries and bruises when his truck and a Ford coach bearing six Chillicothe occupants sideswiped one-half mile north of South Bloomfield, Monday afternoon.

TAKEN TO COLUMBUS

Halstead received medical treatment in a Columbus hospital, where he was taken following the accident by E. F. Schlegel of Ashville.

Sheriff Charles Radcliff, who investigated the wreck, said he was unable to account for the cause of the collision. He light Ford delivery truck, loaded with

Federal Agents To Use Bentz' Statement Against Face-Lifting Medicos.

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—Federal authorities held secret today the contents of a 21-page statement signed by Theodore Bentz, bank robbery suspect, shedding further light, according to police, on the operations of John Dillinger and his murderous band of desperadoes.

Bentz was arrested in Portland, Me., and is being held in jail at Grand Haven, Mich., in connection with bank robberies at South Bend, Ind., Danville, Me., Haverhill and Gardner, Mass.

According to United States Attorney Fleming at South Bend Bentz was with Dillinger, Homer Van Meter and George "Baby Face" Nelson when they raided the Merchants National bank at South Bend June 30, killing one policeman, wounding three others and escaping with $28,000.

ASKS INDICTMENT

The federal prosecutor said he would call the federal grand jury today at South Bend and ask that a bank robbery indictment be voted against Bentz.

South Bend police said Bentz had admitted being with Dillinger, Nelson and Van Meter when they

AGED MAIN FOUND DEAD IN HIS BED

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 2 p. m. with interment in Darbyville cemetery for Samuel H. Holliday, 79, who was found dead in bed at his home in Williamsport Sunday afternoon. Dr. C. E. Bowers, coroner, said he believed Mr. Holliday passed away of cerebral hemorrhage at 10 a. m. Sunday.

He was a retired farmer. Mr. Holliday was born July 11, 1855 a son of George and Alice Hudson Holliday. He married Ada Bethard, who survives him, on July 19, 1879.

Five children, Mrs. Della Florence, of Circleville R. F. D., Hoadley of Junction City, Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter of Lancaster, Thomas of Columbus, Noah at home, survive besides a brother, George of Columbus.

C. E. Hill was in charge of the funeral.

CONTRACT LET FOR FEDERAL P. O. BUILDING

Garland Co., Chicago, Must Complete Job In Year; Bid $38,883.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 4.—The Garland Company, 30 N. LaSalle-st, Chicago, has been awarded the job of building the postoffice at Circleville, it was learned at the procurement division of the treasury today.

The award was made on a bid of $38,883, the lowest of twenty bids submitted for the job, and opened August 15.

The Garland Company has been asked to execute a formal contract within ten days, and file a bond for $20,000 to guarantee faithful performance of the work, it was revealed. According to George Von Nerta, supervising engineer, the work must be finished within 350 calendar days from the date of notice to proceed, which is expected to be issued within two weeks.

USE SANDSTONE

The award was made on construction with the use of sandstone for all exterior stonework, it was learned.

The government limit of cost on the project is $50,000, and this low bid was rather close to the limit of construction cost. No difficulty or delay is anticipated, however, because of the close counting which will have to be made before the project is finished, it was said.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Mrs. William Defenbaugh and baby girl were discharged from the hospital and returned to their home in Tairton Monday.

Mrs. Frank Clark and baby daughter were taken to their home in Williamsport from Berger hospital, Monday.

BIRTHS

Mr. Pickens, former clerk of courts, is now attorney for the Columbus district of the Home Owners' Loan corporation. He is a son of Mrs. W. E. Pickens, Pinckney-st.

Police, Sheriff's Forces Active During Week-end

City police and county sheriff authorities experienced one of the busiest holiday week-ends in some time as a result of auto wrecks, the capture of three Buffalo murder suspects and guarding of the Second National Bank, which is undergoing repair.

Beginning Saturday noon and extending to Tuesday morning, two guards were on hand at the bank at all times. Officer Tom McManamy served during the day and night. Karl Radcliff served at night from the police force, while Deputies Bryan Custer, Bob Armstrong and Miller Fissell alternating at different shifts, represented the sheriff's office.

Douglas Davis Victim of Jinx; Crowd at Air Races Not Told of Fatality Until Six Hours After Crash; Turner Wins Event.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 4.—Literally snatched from his speed plane before he could lay claim to victory that surely would have been his, Douglas Davis, Atlanta, Ga., ace, today was the latest victim of the jinx that has cursed past winners of the Thompson Trophy air race classic.

Davis joins Charles Holman, Lowell Bayles and James Wedell in flyers' valhalla. Not one of these three champions lived three months after their victories.

With less than half an hour remaining before the curtain was due to fall on the National Air Races here—air races until then unmarred by a single serious crack-up—Doug plunged 500 feet at the terrific speed of 300 miles an hour to an instant death.

CROWD IN TRIBUTE

One hundred thousand persons in the airport and highways and fields outside who cheered the victory of Col. Roscoe Turner in the air classic, stood with bared heads when it was announced that Davis was dead.

"Let us stand," boomed a sombre voice through the public address system, "with our heads bowed in memory of Douglas Davis, who today gave his all that aviation may advance."

The ill-starred Atlanta, Ga., ace, who leaves behind a wife and three kiddies, had been dead for nearly two hours when this announcement finally was forthcoming. Air race officials evidently withheld the information until all possibility of a panic or other disorder was averted.

LANCASTER PLANT CLOSED BY STRIKE

LANCASTER, Sept. 4.—More than 1,000 employees of the H. C. Godman shoe company here quit their posts today demanding a closed shop and rehiring of 68 dismissed union employees.

Although a force of pickets was established at the four plants of the company here, the strikers made no attempt to interfere with workmen who reported to their jobs.

Normal employment at the plants, it was said, totaled between 1,100 and 1,200.

The walkout was a surprise move by the workers. Although it was voted last Friday, the date for the strike had not been set and it was not expected to be called for some time.

PITTMAN FAVORED

RENO, Nev., Sept. 4.—Nevada went to the polls today in its primary election featuring a spirited three-cornered race for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Betting odds favored United States Senator Key Pittman, "New Deal" stalwart, whose opponents were Attorney H. R. Cooke of Reno and Robert Moore, a southern Nevada business man.

A particularly bitter campaign was waged against Senator Pittman, a veteran of 22 years in the senate.

He was expected to have the most difficult battle of his long career in the election in November and Republicans were maneuvering with caution today to choose their strongest candidate.

Pastors, Seat of Synod Convention of State

Dr. G. J. Troutman and his son, Rev. George L. Troutman, are the pastor and assistant pastor, respectively, of Trinity Lutheran Church in Circleville, where some 300 delegates will gather in convention.

Dr. Troutman and his son, Rev. George L., are host-pastors of the Ohio conference of the American Lutheran church starting today and closing Friday. Dr. Troutman has been pastor of Trinity Lutheran church since August, 1898. He has declined many calls from the nation's leading Lutheran churches to remain as the director of the destinies of the E. Mound-st institution and its congregation. Rev. George L. Troutman became assistant pastor in May, 1929, and has served faithfully as his father's aide.

STRIKE UNDERWAY THROUGH COUNTRY

By International News Service Textile mills from Maine to Alabama sounded their opening whistles today to signalize the start of the most titanic industrial struggle between capital and labor since World War days.

The next 24 hours, according to strike leaders, will determine whether the strike will become fully effective or gradually fizzle out.

TWO YOUTHS FACING TRIALS FOR MURDER

Polish Youths, Girl in Custody of Detectives, Policewoman Leaving Here Monday at Noon; Wreck Near Main-st Results in Capture with William Barnes Catching 17-year-old Pluzdrak

Three Buffalo, New York, hoodlums, two Polish boys and one German girl, were back in the eastern city today to "face the music."

The boys, Braunslaus "Brownie" Selak, alias Sulak, 19, and Stanislaus Pluzdrak, alias Stanley Gross, 17, are millionaire, after the shooting. Keating was robbed, then freed, penniless, south of Olean, N. Y., near the Pennsylvania state line late Friday. They took Keating's Pontiac automobile to flee, they didn't care where and they didn't know where they were going until the speeding sedan, all three riding in the front seat, failed to make a turn onto Main-st off the Lancaster-pk at 2:20 a. m. Sunday.

charged with the murder of Police Lieutenant George Uhl, 51, in cold blood at 1 a. m. last Friday; the girl, Alice Zimmerman, 25, is charged with helping her partners in crime in the abduction of Theodore B. Keating, Buffalo

Return of Youth To Town Foolish; Captors In Luck

Stanislaus Pluzdrak, alias Stanley Gross, proved too good a buddy or else was just plain foolish Sunday morning when he returned to Circleville after getting as far as Chillicothe on his getaway from a Buffalo trial in Lieut. George L. Uhl's death.

Local police cannot get it through their heads why Pluzdrak wanted to return here unless it was worry over the condition of his pals, Braunslaus Selak and Alice Zimmerman.

Buffalo detectives said it was lucky for Patrolmen Shasten, Smith and Fitzpatrick that Selak was "knocked out" after the wreck instead of Pluzdrak. "Had Brownie (Selak's nickname) been conscious when you boys went to that wreck a couple of you might have stopped lead," Jack Masters, veteran Buffalo detective, told the police.

He also said William Barnes, of Fort Wayne, whose car Pluzdrak tried to steal, could count "his lucky stars" that it was not Selak in the driver's seat armed. Pluzdrak was unarmed at the time of his capture by Barnes.

Immediate trials are expected for the boys. Two others named Maday and Michom are held as accomplices in Buffalo. The former is reported to have had knowledge of the shooting while the latter's car was being used by the slayers.

Developments happened so thick and fast here that to pick out high spots in the story would be confusing to the writer and to the reader so the best thing to do is go right back to the beginning.

Selak and Pluzdrak are two of Buffalo's numerous thousands of Polish inhabitants. Many are tough and known police characters. These two boys have been under suspicion several times but never on anything serious. The cashier of a Broadway theatre was held up and robbed by two young Poles driving a Plymouth coupe. The robbery netted nothing but a bag of tools. Buffalo police were notified to look for the car. The robbery was on Thursday night. At 1 a. m. Friday Lieut. Uhl and Lieut. Earl Milhauser in a squad car stopped the car on a Buffalo street to question its occupants. Uhl got out and Milhauser remained in the car.

more than 100 cases of empty bottles, was returning to the Play Distributing Co. in Columbus, and a Ford coach, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Laddom and two children of 278 S. Watt-st., and Misses Louise and Ruth Gray, of Glenora-ave., all of Chillicothe, was going south when the cars sideswiped.

Both cars careened to opposite sides of the road, the truck striking a culvert leading into the residence of Edward Ruff, completely demolishing it. Thousands of bottles were thrown into the air and smashed on the road for a distance of several hundred yards. Traffic was held up for nearly half an hour pending clearance of the road.

The Ford truck hit the culvert with such an impact that part of the cement structure was moved several feet out of the ground, Sheriff Radcliff related. It was necessary to pry the three occupants out of the truck. Halstead, the driver, was accompanied by Joe Rogers, of New Athens, O., and William Mackey, of Martins Ferry, two hitch-hikers whom he had picked up shortly before the accident.

All of the occupants of the Chillicothe car escaped injury, it was reported.

AT NEW HOLLAND

In a collision two miles east of New Holland at 10 p. m. Saturday Mr. and Mrs. David Van Gundy and two daughters, of Lancaster, former Circleville residents, escaped unhurt. The Van Gundys were in a Ford coupe going toward Washington C. H. on Route 22, while a Chevrolet sedan occupied by a Dayton couple, names unknown, was being driven toward Circleville when the mishap occurred. It is believed both drivers were blinded by lights of oncoming cars.

The Dayton driver, however, took the blame for the accident and settled with Mr. Van Gundy for damages to his car at the scene of the wreck. Sheriff Radcliff investigated.

A truck load of vegetables being taken to Huntington, W. Va. upset in the ditch on Route 22 near the Children's home Saturday after noon, when the driver, Grady Niece, of Huntington, attempted to avoid hitting Bernard Wolfe, 13, bicycle rider who came out of the Children's home lane.

Niece was accompanied by the owner of the truck, A. F. Barnes, also of Huntington. The load of vegetables was valued at several hundred dollars but much of it was saved, according to Sheriff Radcliff, who arrived at the scene shortly after the wreck.

No one was injured as a result of the mishap, the sheriff reported.

THE SOFTBALL BANQUET IS Wednesday at 7 p. m. at the Mecca restaurant and all are invited to have a good time—Here's the list of persons eligible to attend; all players who were active at the close of the season, all managers, team backers, umpires and league officials—By permitting only players who were on teams at the end of the year the number can be kept within the limit of the league's pursestrings, it is believed * * *

The menu as prepared by Frank Littleton, of the Mecca, is an impressive one and with other features planned such as announcing the all-star team, the biggest cry baby in the league—this is going to be tough because on six ballots received so far six different persons are named—the most valuable player, the most dangerous evening promises to provide a lot of fun * * * The feed will be held on the second floor of the restaurant * * *

The Travelers, colored hard ball team, put a mighty good game on the SUElectric field Sunday defeating Bloomingburg 3 to 1. Don Johnson was on the mound for the winners and performed in nice style. He fanned nine or ten of the invaders—His support, too, was good * * * Ashville, strengthened by Art Walker, Whack Davis, and Art Beatty, lost the first half title of the Suburban league to Brice Hanna Motor Sales, Sunday, in a 9-8 playoff—A double after a walk gave Brice the edge * * *

Many from here attended the Beulah Park races, Monday, some came back with more than they had when they left while others lost their pocketbooks—Many others attended the National Air races at Cleveland—All in all it was a pretty good week-end for the natives with plenty of sports events, and other diversion * * *

Leroy Moore, the Lonesome Yodler who in addition plays the outfield for the Circleville Oils, won the 100-yard dash in Ashville's Labor Day celebration Monday. The prize was $1.

Last Club Offer Expires Next Saturday Evening

There are two big dates in the Herald Salesmanship club, and reference to the calendar will reveal the fact that both will be here shortly. In fact one is almost here now.

The first one is next Saturday night, September 8, which is the end of the last offer of extra votes for $30 clubs of subscriptions that will be made. The second date is the end of the campaign when the big cash awards will be made.

This last extra club offer provides for an extra credit of 180,000 extra votes for each and every $30 worth of subscriptions turned in this week. After this no more extra votes will be allowed for $30 clubs of subscriptions and as a result subscriptions will take the biggest drop in vote value of the entire contest. Each member is advised to exert every effort this week to get in every one possible so as to take the fullest possible advantage of this last big club offer.

This much is certain—should any member be fortunate enough to gain a good lead by the end of this period—Saturday night, they would have a decided advantage to win first prize, as it would be hard for a competitor to overtake them after the votes are decreased to such an extent as will take four shots into the officer's body. He died three minutes later without uttering a word.

Milhauser heard the first shot and leaped from the squad car firing. He put one bullet through Selak's coat but in some unexplained manner was disarmed by the youths. The Polish killers jumped back into the Plymouth but could not start it. Milhauser was still incapacitated and they took the police car driving it for a few blocks then abandoning it.

In the meantime the Zimmerman girl had been with the pair but they let her out of the car because they did not want her along on a planned hold-up. She was waiting at a street corner for them.

KIDNAPED KEATING

Fleeing for their lives the killers strengthened, apparently, by fear of capture, walked onto a main street and when Theodore B. Keating, president of the S. O. Barnum and Son Novelty Co., Buffalo, reported to be worth a million and a half by Buffalo police, drove up to a stop light in his Pontiac 8-cylinder sedan. Selak and Pluzdrak stepped from the curbing, drew their revolvers and climbed into Keating's car. He was put into the back seat with Pluzdrak, who held a revolver on him and forced him to lie on the floor, while Selak drove to the corner where the Zimmerman girl waited.

Anxious to make a getaway and during the law Selak, well-armed, drove through the middle of Buffalo and out into the country.

Principals In Killers' Capture

and Police Chief W. H. Warner. No. 2 shows the wrecked stolen car driven by Pluzdrak and in Nos. 3 and 4 are shown Alice Zimmerman and Braunislaus Selak who were riding with Pluzdrak.

the emergency brake applied. Smoke was pouring from the wheels of the car and in front of the Jake Dumm residence the stolen car was overtaken. Pluzdrak left it and started to run but Barnes caught him. The youth did not resist but cried and offered Barnes $8 to let him go. Barnes and his brother, Matt, took Pluzdrak to the police station and turned him over to Chief W. H. Warner.

Buffalo police were jubilant over the arrests when informed by Mayor Cady that the third had been caught. Cady talked with J. W. Higgins, chief of the Buffalo police department, who informed him that officers were on the way and to "by all means don't let anything slip because we want those Polaks." Higgins asked the mayor to inquire whether they would waive extradition; it was later learned they would.

REX BEACH TELLS YOU how to get back vim and energy when "Played Out!"

TOBACCO EXPERTS ALL SAY:

"Camels are made from finer, More Expensive Tobaccos—Turkish & Domestic—than any other popular brand."

"I have taken my share of big sailfish, marlin, and tuna," says Rex Beach, sportsman and noted writer. "I know what a rod-and-reel contest with these heavy fighters does to a man's vitality. When I've gotten a big fellow safely landed my next move is to light a Camel, and I feel as good as new. A Camel quickly gives me a sense of well-being and renewed energy."

"As a steady smoker, I have also learned that Camels do not interfere with healthy nerves."

Thousands of smokers will recognize from their own experience just what Mr. Beach means when he says that he lights a Camel when tired and "feels as good as new." And science adds confirmation of this refreshing "energizing effect."

That's why you hear people say so often: "Get a lift with a Camel." Camels aren't flat or "sweetish." Their flavor never disappoints. You can smoke just as many Camels as you want—their finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOs do not get on the nerves!

escaped a federal trap at the Little Bohemia resort in northern Wisconsin April 22, killing Federal Agent W. Carter Baum.

Information obtained from the prisoner was used to bring charges here against Attorney Louis Piquett, Dillinger's lawyer, and six others, including two physicians, accused of harboring the notorious outlaw.

Further arrests were forecast following the statement given by Bentz to federal agents in Grand Haven. The statement today was being closely guarded by Melvin Purvis, bureau of investigation chief of the department of justice here.

CHANGED HIS FACE
United States Attorney Dwight Green said he would go before the and told his part in the affair and turned over three of the revolvers to him. McCrady brought them back. They were a .38 caliber service revolver believed to belong to Milhauser, a .32 caliber Iver Johnson bulldog and a .32 caliber Remington automatic, identified by Pluzdrak later in the evening as the gun with which Selak slew Uhl.

About 10 p. m. Sunday, Downey, Masters, Mayor Cady, Officer McCrady and Sheriff Charles Radcliff again went to Chillicothe and Vincent turned over the fourth revolver, a .25 caliber Colt's automatic. Allen had given that to him also. Allen was not taken into custody.

ALLOWED TO MOVE

At 2 a. m. Monday the three others came from Buffalo and at 10 a. m., after some investigating of local angles, the officers went to Berger hospital where they obtained permission of Dr. Court-right to remove the injured.

Buffalo officers were loud in their praise of cooperation they received from the local police department.

While the Labor Day week-end was expected to be a quiet one here it resulted in plenty of excitement.

With GAS Heat You Have Only one Bill to Pay***

What other costs besides fuel must you include in your heating expense? Do smoke, soot, and ashes necessitate frequent cleaning of clothing and home furnishings? Must fuel be handled and ashes be removed? Does your family suffer from winter ailments resulting from up-and-down temperatures? These nuisances all represent heavy expense, chargeable to the fuel that makes them necessary. Gas heat is clean, and maintains even temperatures without attention. It costs no more than other heating methods, all costs considered.

Europe and War

THE world has become accustomed to sword-rattling by Mussolini, and his war-like declarations no longer cause the uneasiness they once did. Under the premier's rule, Italy has shown that it is not seeking a fight however energetically preparedness measures are being carried out.

He is aided in keeping his war machine in proper gear by constantly holding up before the people the danger of war. His recent declaration that Italy "will be militarized" probably had among its purposes this, while intended also as a warning to those nations between which and Italy differences exist, in the hope that it might cause them to modify somewhat their position on disputed issues.

"All people, like ours," he said, "are striving for peace. Nobody in Europe wants war. But war is in the air. It might break out at any moment. We must be prepared for war not tomorrow but today. Last July a situation arose which was very similar to that in July, 1914. If we had not dispatched troops to the frontier it probably would have been necessary to resort to cannon."

These are characteristic Mussolini declarations. There appears to be not much danger of early war in Europe, although, as the Italian premier states, no one can say with certainty this will not occur.

That European nations don't want war and are careful in their steps was shown in connection with the Austrian situation. As long as they preserve this attitude, so long will peace prevail.

GIRL, 13, MISSING

OAKLAND, Cal., Sept. 4.—E. H. Cardinet, millionaire candy manufacturer, reportedly police today he feared his 13-year-old daughter, Wanda, had been kidnapped.

Cardinet said the girl telephoned her sister yesterday afternoon that she was going to visit a friend, Adele Davis, daughter of Mrs. J. H. Scudder.

She never arrived at the Scudder home and nothing has been heard of her, according to Cardinet.

AUCTION PAVILION OPENS WEDNESDAY

A program of musical entertainment will herald the opening of Circleville's new livestock auction pavilion at the Pickaway Livestock Cooperative Association's yards, E. Corwin-st., at 12 noon Wednesday.

A large crowd of livestock buyers and other interested farmers are expected to throng the pavilion for the opening day's sale. The pavilion accommodates more than 500 persons. Ladies of Emmitt's Chapel will serve lunch.

Sales will be held every Wednesday, according to Harry J. Briggs, manager.

MARQUIS, ACTRESS' HUSBAND, CRITICAL

PARIS, Sept. 4.—The Marquis Henri De La Falaise De La Coudraye, ex-husband of Gloria Swanson, and now the spouse of Constance Bennett, is gravely ill at the American hospital, it was learned today.

He is suffering from auto-intoxication, a poisoning of the system in which toxic matter is generated within the body of the patient himself, and grave fears are felt it may reach his heart.

Miss Bennett is now aboard the liner Paris on her way to France, and has been acquainted with the severity of his illness. She plans to speed immediately to his bedside when the liner docks.

Amanda Farmer Claimed

Albert Van Siclie, 87, Amanda-twp farmer, died at 1:40 a. m. Tuesday at his home near Amanda. He had been ill two years.

He is survived by four children, Mrs. Lillian Clements, Amanda, and Misses Minnie D., Jessie B., and Gail at home.

The funeral will be Thursday at the Evangelical church, Cedar Hill, with burial in Amanda-twp cemetery by Crites and Van Cleave, Stoutsville.

MARRY PEGGY? NO!

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Reports that Peggy Hopkins Joyce is to become the bride of Peppy D. Albrow are strictly the bunk.

That, at least, is what the handsome young Argentine club manager thinks of it. He said today:

"I haven't heard from or seen Miss Joyce since my club closed for the season last June. Miss Joyce is merely a friend of mine."

"MA CINDERELLA" by Harold Bell Wright

CHAPTER XXV.

Returning the certificates to Ann, the lawyer asked: "Did you and your husband, Edward Haskel, continue to reside in Greenville, Kentucky, after your marriage?"

"Not long we didn't. We moved to Cowley County, Illinois."

"Your sister Grace and her husband, Henry Haskel—did they remain in Greenville?"

"No, sir; we all moved together—worked a farm together in Cowley County on shares for 'bout two years. Then we all moved to Price County, Missouri—northern part of the state hit war. Farm rents wasn't so high in Missouri as they'd got to be in Illinois. We war in Price County four year—had two farms thar, but they war only 'bout a mile apart, so we-uns could be close neighbors like we'd allus been."

"Any children?"

"Grace had a girl-baby. Hit died. I didn't have none—not then."

"I realize how painful some of your memories must be, Mrs. Haskel," said Levering, gently, "but it is quite necessary for you to relate them. Your sister's husband died in Price County, Missouri?"

"The mountain woman spoke now in a stony monotone: 'Henry Haskel war hung fer killin' a man. You got hit all down in your papers thar, I reckon. The killin' war over a hoss dead. Henry he allus war quarrelsome when he war drinkin', which had got to be most of the time after we went to Missouri. He war'n't like his cousin Ed. Ed he war sober an' steady. He most allus could manage Henry, too, when thar war any trouble.'

"Go on, please."

"After her man war tuck, Grace come to live with me an' Ed. We-uns war all the kin she had."

"Yes?"

"Soon's hit war all over 'bout Henry, we-uns moved away from thar; went to west Kansas—away out in the short-grass country—an' tried dry farmin'. But, shucks! couldn't nobody make a livin' in sich a country, an' we come back to Missouri to keep from starvin' to death. Barry County hit war this time—down in the southwest part—nigh the Oklahoma line. Hit war in Kansas Grace died."

"Where was your boy, John Herbert, born, Mrs. Haskel?"

"John Herbert he war borned in Kansas, too."

"How long did you and your husband and the boy remain in Barry County?"

"We war thar 'bout two year. Then we come hyar. We settled, first, over on yon side the river—on Clear Creek. We war a-doin' right well, me an' Ed an' little Herb. Then a tree fell on Ed an' killed him. Thar war'n't nobody left but me an' my boy. Hit's like I tell you, mister—John Herbert air the last of the Haskels."

The lawyer, in his precise way, said: "From the available records in Greenville, Kentucky, and the death of Henry Haskel in Price County, Missouri, we have traced the movements of the two families as you have given them. The death of your husband, Edward, is, of course, easily proven. But there is no record of an official record, I mean, of the death of your sister Grace. And there is no record of the birth of your son, John Herbert. Please understand, madam, that I am not doubting the truth of your statements, but as a matter of legal form—purely as a matter of form—can you substantiate by living witnesses what you have told me?"

Ann Haskel's dark eyes were fixed upon her backwoods companion. Slowly she said: "Nance Jordan hyear knows all about hit. She war livin' with we-uns when my sister died an' when my boy war borned."

"Good!" exclaimed the lawyer, turning to Nance. If he noticed the woman's fright, he attributed it to her quite evident backwoods ignorance.

"Your name, please?"

"Nance Jordan, please."

"Nance Jordan, please?"

"Huh?"

"Your name?"

"Hit's Nance Jordan, jest like Ann says."

"Where were you born?"

"Missouri, I reckon."

"You lived with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Haskel in Price County, did you?"

"She tuck me in. I been with her ever since."

"Oh, I see," returned the lawyer. He turned again to Nance.

"Miss Jordan, can you swear to the truth of Mrs. Haskel's statement regarding the death of Grace, the widow of Henry Haskel, and the birth of John Herbert, son of Ann and Edward Haskel?"

Turning her frightened face toward Ann, the backwoods woman answered, doubtfully: "I ain't never swore to nothin' in all my borned days, mister."

establishing this trust he provided for the payment of taxes and instructed that the land should be held for fifty years, or until the property was worth a million dollars.

"In either of these events the trusteeship should cease and disposition of the property should be made as follows: To John's only son, Edward, if he were living at that time. If Edward were dead, the land should go to his widow—providing, of course, that Edward had married and that his wife were living at the time of the dissolution of the trust. If both Edward and his wife were dead, the property should go to any child or children which might have been born to them. If Edward and his wife were dead, and if they left no issue, the land was to go to the Foreign Missionary Board of the Methodist Church.

FILM PRESERVES COLUMBO'S VOICE

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 4.—Friends and relatives of Russ Columbo, whose golden voice thrilled a million women, prepared today to attend an inquest tomorrow into his accidental death.

Shot dead with an old dueling pistol held by his lifelong friend, Lansing Brown, Jr., Hollywood portrait photographer, Columbo's body lay in the county morgue as Hollywood mourned.

Physicians attending Brown, who collapsed, said that he probably would be able to attend the inquest. He was to be the principal witness, and reiterate in detail the story of the tragedy—how he and Columbo sat at a desk in Brown's home, how an old cap and ball pistol, which Brown was toying, suddenly went off, sending a bullet into the brain of the radio favorite.

Brown was to be followed to the stand by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lansing Brown, Sr., who were in the home when the tragedy occurred.

John Columbo, a brother of the singer-actor, will make formal identification.

TOLD HIS FATHER

It was John who last night broke the tragic news to his 78-year-old father, Nicholas Columbo, one time San Francisco contractor.

Russ was one of 12 children. He lived with his father and mother. The latter is in a Santa Monica hospital, still too ill to be told of her son's death.

Columbo's name was linked with the names of many women. There was Dorothy Dell, who was killed last spring in a Pasadena automobile accident. At that time she was in the "Follies"—a torch singer. Then there was Hannah Williams, who later married Jack Dempsey.

And when Columbo came to Hollywood there was Sally Blane, the actress, who was waiting outside his room at the hospital when he died.

WITH LOMBARD

More recently he had been going about with Carole Lombard, divorced wife of William Powell.

turbance had passed.

The fatal mishap, occurring as it did behind and six miles from the grandstand, left everyone mystified as to what had transpired for almost 30 minutes.

Davis was rounding number 3 pylon in the seven-h lap when his plane refused to flatten out after a vertical bank and was seen to slide into a slip, take two spins and plummet out of sight.

The plane, the famous "44" in which "Jimmy" Wedell set so many brilliant records, was almost the last contact for the name of Wedell with the aviation world. A red and black Wedell-Williams monoplane, powered with a 1,000 horsepower motor, it was completely demolished at the impact. The motor was driven six feet into the ground.

TURNED IGNITION

Davis was instantly killed. The ship did not burn and the assumption was that Davis turned off the ignition switch during those fleeting seconds when he was plunging into eternity.

MR. AND MRS. BELL OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING SUNDAY

An occasion long to be remembered by the family of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Bell was the dinner, Sunday, celebrating the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Bell held at their home near Amanda.

The home was attractive with beautiful baskets of fall flowers. A gold and white color scheme was carried out in the dining room decorations and at the prettily appointed tables. A miniature bride and bridegroom was used on the wedding cake, which centered the table where the honored couple was seated. Covers were laid for ten who were present at the wedding fifty years ago.

Fifty persons enjoyed the delightful occasion and a number of relatives and friends called in the afternoon to extend congratulations and best wishes.

A short program was presented in the afternoon consisting of a reading, "Congratulations," by Marybelle Swick; recitation, "Roofs," by Martha Lee Bell; recitation, "The Big Dog Under the Wagon," by Robert Cromley; remarks by Rev. Reiff; talk W. L. Swick and remarks by Mrs. Reiff.

Dispute With Johnson May Be Renewed at Hyde Park Residence

WASHINGTON — Some of the turbulent scenes which took place inside the White House when the President was trying to persuade General Hugh S. Johnson to take a back seat in the Blue Eagle Roost have just leaked out and indicate the difficulties in store when the two men get together again at Hyde Park.

In last week's conferences Roosevelt attempted to be tactful. With his usual disarming manner he suggested to Johnson that he go abroad to study European government methods of regulating industry as preparation for formulating plans to be submitted to the next Congress for a permanent remodeling of the NRA.

The effect on Johnson was instantaneous and extraordinary. An amazing scene ensued.

Despite his repeated assertions about being ready and willing to step out when the President gave the signal, Johnson bridled in sudden anger.

"You are just easing me out the way you did George Peek," he retorted.

The President leaned back and continued to smoke.

"Tut, tut, Hugh," he chided, between cigarette puffs. "George Peek was not the man you put it, 'eased out.' He undertook a very important work, and he is doing a most excellent job of it."

Johnson refused to be appeased. Belling he rose, strode out of the White House, went directly to his office and began writing in long-hand a letter of resignation.

When he finished, and the letter had been typed, it covered two and one-half pages. He sent it to the White House by his chauffeur for immediate delivery to the President.

Roosevelt had already retired, was reading in bed, when the letter reached him. It put him in something of a quandary.

With the Congressional campaign getting under way, Roosevelt realized the political danger of an open break with Johnson. Also he has always retained a personal affection for the hair-triggered ex-trooper, and never parts with any associate in anger if he can help it.

So he reached for a pad on his bedside table, and dashed off a cordial little note to Johnson in his own handwriting. He refused to accept the resignation, invited the General to Hyde Park after taking a two weeks' rest.

When the United States News discovered the fact and printed it, Hoover immediately sent one of his operators to call on the paper.

"We're just interested in the background of this story," he explained.

"You mean you want to know where the story leaked from?" suggested forthright Clarence Marshall, the editor.

"Well—anything you'd like to tell us."

"All right, I'll give you a ring if there is anything I can tell you."

Hoover is still guessing as to who spilled the news on his armored buggy.

Sensations

The Senate Munitions Investigating Committee, which begins its work today, has been making a blue print of public psychology. It plans to pop a new and outstanding horror every day the investigation continues.

In fact on some days there is to be a "horror" for the afternoon papers and another for the morning editions. Complete impartiality.

Here are some of the horrors in stock:

How American munitions makers tie up with foreign firms in agreements that their plants will not be destroyed in case of hostilities.

How one American firm sold vital nitrate-making processes to Japan under the guise that it was producing fertilizer.

How American firms upset the State Department's peace plans in

FEW INJURIES RESULT FROM FIVE WRECKS

Twenty-five Involved in Crashes on Highways Over Week-end

TRAFFIC IS DELAYED

Bottle Truck Tosses Glass Into Route 23

Although 25 persons were involved in five auto wrecks on Pickaway-co's crowded highways over the week-end and holiday, only three were seriously hurt, a checkup by The Herald revealed Tuesday.

The list of wrecks was topped by the smashup of a Pontiac sedan at Mingo and E. Main-sts early Sunday, which resulted in the arrest of three Buffalo, N. Y. murder suspects. Two of the occupants, Braunslaus Selak, 19, and Alice Zimmerman, 25, were treated at Berger hospital for their injuries.

The third person to sustain serious injury in the five accidents was Earl W. Halstead, of 5925 Gallia-st, Portsmouth, driver for the Play Distributing Co., of Columbus, who suffered painful head injuries and bruises when his truck and a Ford each bearing six Chillicothe occupants, side-swiped one-half mile north of South Bloomfield, Monday afternoon.

TAKEN TO COLUMBUS

Halstead received medical treatment in a Columbus hospital, where he was taken following the accident by E. F. Schlegel of Ashville.

Sherriff Charles Radcliff, who investigated the wreck, said he was unable to account for the cause of the collision. He related that Halstead, driving a light Ford delivery truck, loaded with Federal Agents To Use Bentz' Statement Against Face-Lifting Medicos.

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—Federal authorities held secret today the contents of a 21-page statement signed by Theodore Bentz, bank robbery suspect, shedding further light, according to police, on the operations of John Dillinger and his murderous band of desperadoes.

Bentz was arrested in Portland, Me., and is being held in jail at Grand Haven, Mich., in connection with bank robberies at South Bend, Ind., Danville, Mo., Haverhill and Gardner, Mass.

According to United States Attorney Fleming at South Bend Bentz was with Dillinger, Homer Van Meter and George "Baby Face" Nelson when they raided the Merchants National bank at South Bend June 30, killing one policeman, wounding three others and escaping with $28,000.

ASKS INDICTMENT

The federal prosecutor said he would call the federal grand jury today at South Bend and ask that a bank robbery indictment be voted against Bentz.

South Bend police said Bentz had admitted being with Dillinger, Nelson and Van Meter when they

AGED MAIN FOUND DEAD IN HIS BED

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 2 p. m. with interment in Darbyville cemetery for Samuel H. Holliday, 79, who was found dead in bed at his home in Williamsport Sunday afternoon.

Dr. C. E. Bowers, coroner, said he believed Mr. Holliday passed away of cerebral hemorrhage at 10 a. m. Sunday.

He was a retired farmer. Mr. Holliday was born July 11, 1855 a son of George and Alice Bethard, who survives him, on July 19, 1879.

Five children, Mrs. Della Florence of Circleville R. F. D., Headley of Junction City, Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter of Lancaster, Thomas of Columbus, Noah at home, survive besides a brother, George of Columbus.

CONTRACT LET FOR FEDERAL P. O. BUILDING

Garland Co., Chicago, Must Complete Job In Year; Bid $38,883.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 4.—The Garland Company, 30 N. LaSalle-st, Chicago, has been awarded the job of building the postoffice at Circleville, it was learned at the procurement division of the treasury today.

20 SOUGHT JOB

The award was made on a bid of $38,883, the lowest of twenty bids submitted for the job, and opened August 15.

The Garland Company has been asked to execute a formal contract within ten days, and file a bond for $20,000 to guarantee faithful performance of the work, it was revealed. According to George Von Nerta, supervising engineer, the work must be finished within 360 calendar days from the date of notice to proceed, which is expected to be issued within two weeks.

USE SANDSTONE

The award was made on construction with the use of sandstone for all exterior stonework, it was learned.

The government limit of cost on the project is $50,000, and this low bid was rather close to the limit of construction cost. No difficulty or delay is anticipated, however, because of the close counting which will have to be made before the project is finished, it was said.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Mrs. William Defenbaugh and baby girl were discharged from the hospital and returned to their home in Taiton Monday.

Mrs. Frank Clark and baby daughter were taken to their home in Williamsport from Berger hospital, Monday.

BIRTHS

Their many friends will be pleased to know that a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ferd M. Pickens, of Columbus, at White Cross hospital, Sunday. Mother and son, their first, are doing well.

Mr. Pickens, former clerk of courts, is now attorney for the Columbus district of the Home Owners' Loan corporation. He is a son of Mrs. W. E. Pickens, Pinckney-st.

PITTMAN FAVORED

RENO, Nev., Sept. 4.—Nevada went to the polls today in its primary election featuring a spirited three-cornered race for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Setting odds favored United States Senator Key Pittman, "New Deal" stalwart, whose opponents were Attorney H. E. Cook of Reno and Robert Moore, a southern Nevada business man.

A particularly bitter campaign was waged against Senator Pittman, a veteran of 22 years in the senate.

He was expected to have the most difficult battle of his long career in the election in November and Republicans were maneuvering with caution today to choose their strongest candidate.

Police, Sheriff's Forces Active During Week-end

City police and county sheriff authorities experienced one of the busiest holiday week-ends in some time as a result of auto wrecks, the capture of three Buffalo murder suspects and guarding of the Second National Bank, which is undergoing repair.

Beginning Saturday noon and extending to Tuesday morning, two guards were on hand at the bank at all times. Officer Tom McManany served during the day and Officer Karl Radcliff served at night from the police force, while Deputies Bryan Custer, Bob Armstrong and Miller Russell alternating at different shifts, represented the sheriff's office.

Douglas Davis Victim of Jinx; Crowd at Air Races Not Told of Fatality Until Six Hours After Crash; Turner Wins Event.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 4.—Literally snatched from his speed plane before he could lay claim to victory that surely would have been his, Douglas Davis, Atlanta, Ga., ace, today was the latest victim of the jinx that has cursed past winners of the Thompson Trophy air race classic.

Davis joins Charles Holman, Lowell Bayles and James Wedell in flyers' valhalla. Not one of these three champions lived three months after their victories.

With less than half an hour remaining before the curtain was due to fall on the National Air Races here—air races until then unmarred by a single serious crack-up—Doug plunged 500 feet at the terrific speed of 300 miles an hour to an instant death.

CROWD IN TRIBUTE

One hundred thousand persons in the airport and highways and fields outside who cheered the victory of Col. Roscoe Turner in the air classic, stood with bared heads when it was announced that Davis was dead.

"Let us stand," boomed a sombre voice through the public address system, "with our heads bowed in memory of Douglas Davis who today gave his all that aviation may advance."

The ill-starred Atlanta, Ga., ace, who leaves behind a wife and three kiddies, had been dead for nearly two hours when this announcement finally was forthcoming. Air race officials evidently withheld the information until all possibility of a panic or other disturbance was eliminated.

LANCASTER PLANT CLOSED BY STRIKE

LANCASTER, Sept. 4.—More than 1,000 employees of the H. C. Godman shoe company here quit their posts today demanding a closed shop and rehiring of 68 dismissed union employees.

Although a force of pickets was established at the four plants of the company here, the strikers made no attempt to interfere with workmen who reported to their jobs.

Normal employment at the plants, it was said, totaled between 1,100 and 1,200.

The walkout was a surprise move by the workers. Although it was voted last Friday, the date for the strike had not been set and it was not expected to be called for some time.

Textile mills from Maine to Alabama sounded their opening whistles today to signalize the start of the most titanic industrial struggle between capital and labor since World War days.

The next 24 hours, according to strike leaders, will determine whether the strike will become fully effective or gradually fizzle out.

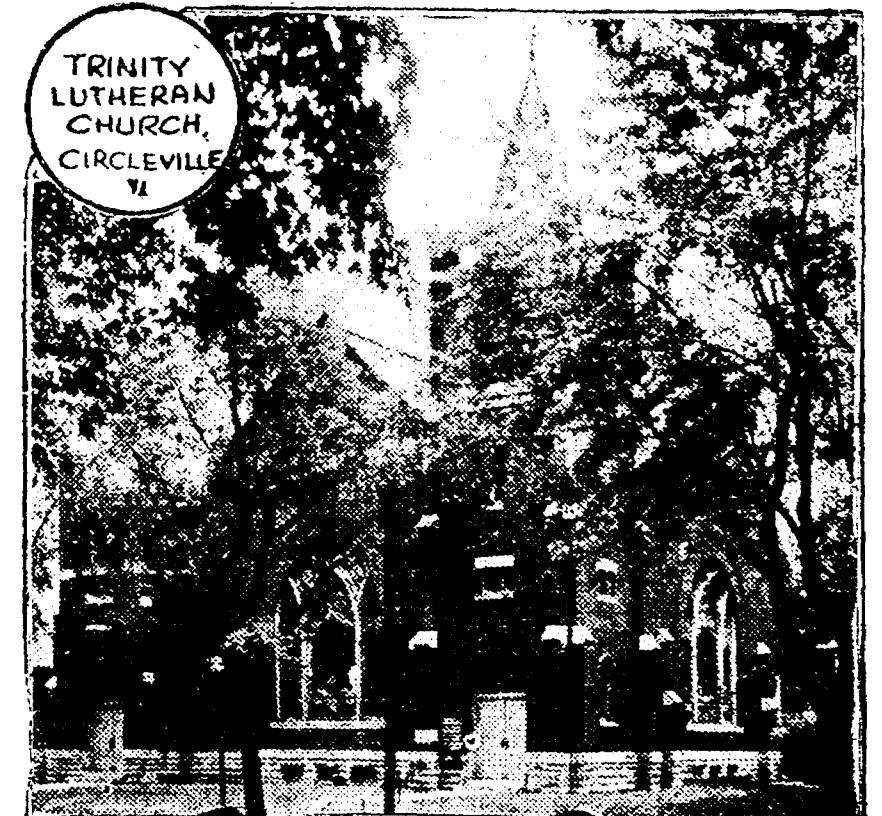

Dawn today found contrasting scenes in the mill centers of New England and the South. In South Carolina, national guardsmen were on duty while from Georgia came reports of a minor disturbance.

Bargers Leave Club

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barger, who have been acting as steward and stewardess at the Pickaway Country club for the past three and one-half years, have resigned and are removing to Columbus.

Mr. Barger will be employed at the Deshler-Wallack hotel. No successors have yet been named.

Pastors, Seat of Synod Convention of State

Dr. G. J. Troutman and his son, Rev. George Troutman, are the pastor and assistant pastor, respectively, of Trinity Lutheran Church in Circleville, where some 300 delegates will gather in convention.

Dr. Troutman and his son, Rev. George L. Troutman, are host-pastors of the Ohio conference of the American Lutheran church starting today and closing Friday.

Dr. Troutman has been pastor of Trinity Lutheran church since August, 1898. He has declined many calls from the nation's leading Lutheran churches to remain as the director of the destinies of the E. Mound-st institution and its congregation.

Rev. George L. Troutman became assistant pastor in May, 1929, and has served faithfully as his father's aide.

Interesting Talks on Schedule of Conferences of Lutheran, United Brethren Churches; Attendance To Pass 500, Believe.

Circleville's two big church meetings, Lutheran and United Brethren, were in full swing today with large attendances at both conferences. More delegates attendees to more than 500.

The Tuesday afternoon sessions of both organizations were crowded with activity with many reports and messages to be delivered. At the Lutheran synod meeting delegates to the convention of the American Lutheran church were to be elected.

The Tuesday evening programs were:

LUTHERAN

7 p. m., Devotions. Address, "Church of Christ, Stand Fast in Thy First Love" by Rev. Peffly. Committee meetings are also planned.

UNITED BRETHREN

7:30 p. m., Rev. W. E. Reibel presiding; worship in song, scripture and prayer by W. E. Jones; special music by the local choir; sermon, Rev. J. E. Comer, former Circleville pastor, Benediction.

Wednesday programs of both conventions are filled. Both morning sessions start at 9 o'clock lasting until noon.

The afternoon sessions should be of much interest to the public. The U. B. starting at 1:30 and the Lutheran at 2 p. m. G. Clippinger will deliver the principal address at the United Brethren church Wednesday afternoon meeting on "The Church—Where, When, What, Why?" Dr. Clippinger is president of Oberlin college, Westerville.

Native of Darby-twp. Dies Suddenly In Columbus Hospital

Mrs. Elizabeth Wells, 28, native of Darby-twp. but a resident of 333 W. 4th-st., Columbus, died suddenly in White Cross hospital Tuesday morning. The cause of death has not been determined, but she is believed to have died of a heart attack.

She is survived by her husband, Walter Wells; her father, Seymour, and the following brothers and sisters, Nellie Crawford of Mt. Sterling, Charles of Chillicothe, Albert of Columbus, Glenn of Derby, Ralph of Williamsport, Ruth Huffer of Circleville R. F. D., Mrs. Mary Novak of Columbus and Mrs. Ethel Van Atta of Harrisburg. Her mother, Mrs. Eva Decamp Self, died July 11.

Funeral arrangements, not yet completed, are in charge of C. E. Hill.

TWO YOUTHS FACING TRIALS FOR MURDER

Polish Youths, Girl in Custody of Detectives, Policewoman Leaving Here Monday at Noon; Wreck Near Main-st Results in Capture with William Barnes Catching 17-year-old Pluzdrak

Three Buffalo, New York, hoodlums, two Polish boys and one German girl, were back in the eastern city today to "face the music."

The boys, Braunslaus "Brownie" Selak, alias Sulak, 19, and Stanislaus Pluzdrak, alias Stanley Gross, 17, are

Pictures of the arrested trio and the stolen automobile can be found on page 3 of today's Herald.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN KILLED

Pluzdrak, who told police he had been driving a machine only a few days, was behind the wheel. It was lucky, police say, that all were not killed in the wreck in which two telephone poles, the automobile of Frank Malone and the back porch of the residence of Cora Hunt were damaged. The Pontiac, demolished, has drawn considerable attention at the E. E. Clifton garage.

The trio, two of whom are almost certain to be executed at Sing Sing for the murder of the policeman, whose funeral was held in Buffalo Monday morning, was taken back to New York on a Pennsylvania railroad train leaving Columbus shortly after noon p. m. our time, Monday. Selak, named as the gunman, was reported to be suffering from a fractured skull received in the wreck, but Buffalo detectives believed he was "playing possum" and obtained permission of Dr. D. V. Courtwright to move him. He was shackled to his pal, Pluzdrak, while the Zimmerman girl, who has spent ten years of her life in a feeble-minded institution, was in the same car in charge of Policewoman Sarah Connors. Officers guarding Selak and Pluzdrak were Detective Sergeant Jack Masters and Lieut. Gene Downey of the homicide squad. Masters and Downey, veteran officers, came to Circleville at 3 p. m. Sunday while the policeman's story would be confusing to the writer and to the reader so the best thing to do is go right back to the beginning.

Selak and Pluzdrak are two of Buffalo's numerous thousands of Polish inhabitants. Many are tough and known police characters. These two boys have been under suspicion several times but never on anything serious. The cashier of a Buffalo theatre was held up and robbed by two young Poles driving a Plymouth coupe. The robbery netted nothing but a bag of tools. Buffalo police were notified to look for the car. The robbery was on Thursday night, at 1 a. m. Friday Lieut. Uhl and Lieut. Earl Milhauser in a squad car stopped the car on a Buffalo street to question its occupants. The pair got out, and Milhauser remained in the car.

TWO OTHERS HELD

Immediate trials are expected for the boys. Two others named Maday and Michom are held as accomplices in Buffalo. The former is reported to have had knowledge of the shooting while the latter's car was being used by the slayers.

Developments happened so thick and fast here that to pick out high spots in the story would be confusing to the writer and to the reader so the best thing to do is go right back to the beginning.

Judge J. W. Adkins, Saturday, granted a divorce to Mrs. Margaret Wilson, York-st, after hearing her petition filed against Arthur F. Wilson, Walnut-st barber.

Mrs. Wilson was awarded $175 permanent alimony and the custody of their child, Mary. The father was ordered to pay $2 per week for the support of the child.

Weldon and Weldon were attorneys for the plaintiff.

UPDYKES S'ED

Ray and Esta Updyke, of Orient R. F. D., were named defendants in a cognovit judgment for $24.88 and seven percent interest filed in common pleas court Tuesday by Chapin E. Beem, Columbus attorney, and executor of the estate of Fred B. Sciener, deceased.

WALK FINANCED

The state relief commission today had approved an appropriation of $189 for building a sidewalk at the Walnut-st school, this city, following an application made by local relief authorities.

TRAPPED BY DRIVER

Uhl went to the driver's side and asked to see his driving permit. Selak displayed Michon's permit, but when Uhl asked to search the car, the driver, Selak, told him the door was caught and he should go to the other side. He did hold a revolver in his hand while he was questioning Pluzdrak and preparing to enter the car. Selak slipped from the driver's seat, walked around the car and put his revolver, a .32 caliber automatic, against the lieutenant's back and told him to "stick 'em up."

Uhl started to follow the order but when he did Pluzdrak snatched his revolver. The lieutenant was only a second when Selak fired

As Collegians Held Bears to Scoreless Tie

Before a capacity crowd of 80,000, the All-American college football team played the Chicago Bears, outstanding professional football team, to a standstill in a scoreless tie game at Soldier's Field, Chicago. This photo shows Zeller, guard of the Bears, being tackled by Schwammel of Oregon, right tackle on the All-American team, after Zeller had intercepted a pass.

more than 100 cases of empty bottles, was returning to the Play Distributing Co. in Columbus, and a Ford coach, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Leddion and two children of 278 S. Watt-st., and Misses Louise and Ruth Gray of Glencraft-ave. all of Chillicothe, was going south when the cars sideswiped.

Both cars careened to opposite sides of the road, the truck striking a culvert leading into the residence of Edward Ruff, completely demolishing it. Thousands of bottles were thrown into the air and smashed on the road for a distance of several hundred yards. Traffic was held up for nearly half an hour pending clearance of the road.

The Ford truck hit the culvert with such an impact that part of the cement structure was moved several feet out of the ground. Sheriff Radcliff related. It was necessary to pry the three occupants out of the truck. Halstead, the driver, was accompanied by Joe Rogers of New Athens, O., and William Mackey, of Martins Ferry, two hitch-hikers whom he had picked up shortly before the accident.

All of the occupants of the Chillicothe car escaped injury, it was reported.

AT NEW HOLLAND

In a collision two miles east of New Holland at 10 p. m. Saturday Mr. and Mrs. David Van Gundy and two daughters, of Lancaster, former Circleville residents, escaped unhurt. The Van Gundys were in a Ford coupe going toward Washington C. H. on Route 22, while a Chevrolet sedan occupied by a Dayton couple, names unlearned, was being driven toward Circleville when the mishap occurred. It is believed both drivers were blinded by lights of oncoming cars.

The Dayton driver, however, took the blame for the accident and settled with Mr. Van Gundy for damages to his car at the scene of the wreck. Sheriff Radcliff investigated.

A truck load of vegetables being taken to Huntington, W. Va. upset on Route 22 near the Children's home Saturday afternoon, when the driver, Grady Niece, of Huntington, attempted to avoid hitting Bernard Wolfe, 13, bicycle rider, who came out of the Children's home lane.

Niece was accompanied by the owner of the truck, A. F. Barnes, also of Huntington. The load of vegetables was valued at several hundred dollars but much of it was saved, according to Sheriff Radcliff, who arrived at the scene shortly after the wreck.

No one was injured as a result of the mishap, the sheriff reported.

WRIGHT IN CRASH

Six persons were uninjured in a collision at Court and Main-sts. at 3:45 a. m. Saturday. Walter Matthews, of 5529 Chalmers-ave., Detroit, Mich., accompanied by four young women, was driving south on Court-st. and Charles Wright, N. Court-st., started to turn left on W. Main-st. when the two cars collided.

Minor damage resulted to each of the cars. Police investigated the collision.

NEST OF CENTIPEDES

VETERAN, Wyo.—A nest of 200 centipedes from two to four inches in length was uncovered by a road gang here. Because the insects are rare in Wyoming, several were captured and have been preserved in alcohol.

The poor are helping to save America. They also serve who stand the gaff.

BANQUET SCHEDULED

THE SOFTBALL BANQUET IS Wednesday at 7 p. m. at the Mecca restaurant and all are bound to have a good time—Here's the list of persons eligible to attend; all players who were active at the close of the season, all managers, team backers, umpires and league officials—By permitting only players who were on teams at the end of the year the number can be kept within the limit of the league's pursestrings. It is believed.

The menu as prepared by Frank Littleton, of the Mecca, is an impressive one and with other features planned such as announcing the all-star team, the biggest cry baby in the league—this is going to be tough because on six ballots received so far six different persons are named—the most valuable player, the most dangerous hitter, the fastest base runner the evening promises to provide a lot of fun. The feed will be held on the second floor of the restaurant.

TRAVELERS WIN 3-1

The Travelers, colored hard ball team, put up a mighty good game on the SOElectric field Sunday defeating Bloomingburg 3 to 1—Don Johnson was on the mound for the winners and performed in nice style. He fanned nine or ten of the invaders—His support, too, was good. Art Walker, Whack Davis, and Art Beatty, lost the first half title of the Suburban league to Brice Hanna Motor Sales, Sunday, in a 9-8 playoff—A double after a walk gave Brice the edge.

Last Club Offer Expires Next Saturday Evening

There are two big dates in the Herald Salesmanship club, and reference to the calendar will reveal the fact that both will be here shortly. In fact one is almost here now.

The first one is next Saturday night, September 8, which is the end of the last offer of extra votes for $30 clubs of subscriptions that will be made. The second date is the end of the campaign when the big cash awards will be made.

This last extra club offer provides for an extra credit of 180,000 extra votes for each and every $30 worth of subscriptions turned in this week. After this no more extra votes will be allowed for $30 clubs of subscriptions and as a result subscriptions will take the biggest drop in vote value of the entire contest. Each member is advised to exert every effort this week to get in every one possible so as to take the fullest possible advantage of this last big club offer.

This much is certain—should any member be fortunate enough to gain a good lead by the end of this period, Saturday night, they would have a decided advantage to win first prize, as it would be hard for a competitor to overtake them after the votes are decreased to such an extent as will take four shots into the officer's body. He died three minutes later without uttering a word.

Milhauser heard the first shot and leaped from the squad car. He put one bullet through Selak's coat but in some unexplained manner was disarmed by the youths. The Polish killers jumped back into the Plymouth but could not start it. Milhauser was still incapacitated and they took the police car driving it for a few blocks then abandoning it.

In the meantime the Zimmerman girl had been with the pair but they let her out of the car because they did not want her along on a planned hold-up. She was waiting at a street corner for them.

KIDNAPED KEATING

Fleeing for their lives the killers' strengthed, apparently, by fear of capture walked onto a main street and when Theodore B. Keating, president of the S. O. Barnum and Son Novelty Co., Buffalo, reported to be worth $1 million and a half by Buffalo police, drove up to a stop light in his Pontiac 8-cylinder sedan. Selak and Pluzdrak stepped from the curbing, drew their revolvers and climbed into Keating's car. He was put into the back seat with Pluzdrak, who held a revolver on him and forced him to lie on the floor, while Selak drove to the corner where the Zimmerman girl waited.

Anxious to make a getaway and darning the law Selak, well-armed, drove through the middle of Buffalo and out into the country.

Principals In Killers' Capture

the emergency brake applied. Smoke was pouring from the wheels of the car and in front of the Jake Dumm residence the stoler car was overtaken. Pluzdrak left it and started to run but Barnes caught him. The youth did not resist but cried and offered Barnes $8 to let him go. Barnes and his brother, Matt, took Pluzdrak to the police station and turned him over to Chief W. H. Warner.

Buffalo police were jubilant over the arrests when informed by Mayor Cady that the third had been caught. Cady talked with J. W. Higgins, chief of the Buffalo police department, who informed him that officers were on the way and to "by all means don't let anything slip because we want those Poles." Higgins asked the mayor to inquire whether they would waive extradition; it was later learned they would.

TOBACCO EXPERTS ALL SAY:
"Camels are made from finer, More Expensive Tobaccos—Turkish & Domestic—than any other popular brand."

"I have taken my share of big sailfish, marlin, and tuna," says Rex Beach, sportsman and noted writer. "I know what a rod-and-reel contest with these heavy fighters does to a man's vitality. When I've gotten a big fellow safely landed my next move is to light a Camel, and I feel as good as new. A Camel quickly gives me a sense of wellbeing and renewed energy."

"As a steady smoker, I have also learned that Camels do not interfere with healthy nerves."

Thousands of smokers will recognize from their own experience just what Mr. Beach means when he says that he lights a Camel when tired and "feels as good as new." And science adds confirmation of this refreshing "energizing effect."

That's why you hear people say so often: "Get a lift with a Camel." Camels aren't flat or "sweetish." Their flavor never disappoints. You can smoke just as many Camels as you want—their finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS do not get on the nerves!

CHAPTER XXV.

Returning the certificates to Ann, the lawyer asked: "Did you and your husband, Edward Haskell, continue to reside in Greenville, Kentucky, after your marriage?"

"Not long we didn't. We moved to Cowley County, Illinois."

"Your sister Grace and her husband, Henry Haskell, did they remain in Greenville?"

"No, sir; we all moved together—worked a farm together in Cowley County on shares for 'bout two years. Then we all moved to Price County, Missouri—northern part of the state, hit war. Farm went so high in Missouri as that, got to be in Illinois. We war in Price County four year—had two farms thar, but they war only 'bout a mile apart, so we-uns could be close, neighbors like we'd allus be."

"Any children?"

"Grace had a girl-baby. Hit died. I didn't have none—not then."

"I realize how painful some of your memories must be, Mrs. Haskell," said Levering, gently, "but it is quite necessary for you to relate them. Your sister's husband died in Price County, Missouri?"

"The mountain woman spoke now in a stony monotone: "Henry Haskell war hung for killin' a man. You got hit all down in your papers thar, I reckon. The killin' war over a boss deal. Henry he allus war quarrelsome when he war drinkin', which had got to be most of the time after we went to Missouri. He war't like his cousin Ed. He he war sober an' steady. He most allus could manage Henry, too, when thar war any trouble."

"After her man war tuck, Grace she come to live with me an' Ed. We-uns war all the kin she had."

"Yes?"

"Soon's hit war all over 'bout Henry, we-uns moved away from thar, went to west Kansas—away out in the short-grass country—an' tried dry farmin'. But, shucks! couldn't nobody make a livin' in sich a country, an' we come back to Missouri to keep from starvin' to death. Barry County hit war this time—down in the southwest part—nigh the Oklahoma line. Hit war in Kansas Grace died."

"Where was your boy, John Herbert, born, Mrs. Haskell?"

"John Herbert he war borned in Kansas, too."

"How long did you and your husband and the boy remain in Barry County?"

"We war thar 'bout two year. Then we come hieck. We settled first over on one side the river—on Clear Creek. We war a-doin' right well, me an' Ed an' little Herb. Then a tree fell on Ed an' killed him. Thar war't nobody left but me an' my boy. Hit's like I tell you, mister—John Herbert air the last of the Haskels."

"The lawyer, in his precise way, said: "From the available records we have established the marriages in Greenville, Kentucky, and the death of Henry Haskell in Price County, Missouri, you have traced the movements of the two families as you have given them. The death of your husband, Edward, is, of course, easily proven. But there is no record—no official record—of the death of your sister Grace. And there is no record of the birth of your son, John Herbert. Please understand, madam, that I am not doubting the truth of your statements, but as a matter of legal form—purely as a matter of form—can you substantiate by living witnesses what you have told me?"

Ann Haskell's dark eyes were fixed upon her backwoods companion. Slowly she said: "Nance Jordan hyear knows all about hit. Nance Jordan hyear knows all about hit. She war livin' with we-uns when my—my sister died an' when my boy war borned."

"You what?"

"I am pleased to inform you, madam, that you are the heir to a very substantial fortune."

"My Gawd-a-mighty," gasped Nance.

Ann Haskell said, slowly, "I reckon you'd best tell me 'bout hit, mister."

"John Haskell, the father of your husband, Edward, was, as you said, in business. Among other small interests he traded in a small way in real-estate. He died in Holmsburg, Pennsylvania. At the time of his death he was in possession of a tract of apparently worthless land. He had purchased this land, believing it to be oil land, and although the development which he expected did not occur during his lifetime, his faith in the property was so strong that he placed it in trust with our company for his heirs. He was a widower at the time of his death."

"The terms of the trust were unusual, John Haskell was, I am told, somewhat eccentric. In fact, his predilection as to the ultimate value of his property was generally held to prove his—ah—peculiarities. In

Europe and War

THE world has become accustomed to sword-rattling by Mussolini, and his war-like declarations no longer cause the uneasiness they once did. Under the premier's rule, Italy has shown that it is not seeking a fight however energetically preparedness measures are being carried out.

He is aided in keeping his war machine in proper gear by constantly holding up before the people the danger of war. His recent declaration that Italy "will militarize" probably had among its purposes (this, while intended also as a warning to those nations between which and Italy differences exist, in the hope that it might cause them to modify somewhat their position on disputed issues.

"All people, like ours," he said, "are striving for peace. Nobody in Europe wants war. But war is in the air. It might break out at any moment. We must be prepared for war not tomorrow but today. Last July a situation arose which was very similar to that in July, 1914. If we had not dispatched troops to the frontier it probably would have been necessary to resort to cannon."

These are characteristic Mussolini declarations. There appears to be not much danger of early war in Europe, although, as the Italian premier states, no one can say with certainty this will not occur.

That European nations don't want war and are careful in their steps was shown in connection with the Austrian situation. As long as they preserve this attitude, so long will peace prevail.

MARQUIS, ACTRESS' HUSBAND, CRITICAL

PARIS, Sept. 4.—The Marquis Henri de La Falaise de La Coudraye, ex-husband of Gloria Swanson and now the spouse of Constance Bennett, is gravely ill at the American hospital, it was learned today.

He is suffering from auto-intoxication, a poisoning of the system in which toxic matter is generated within the body of the patient himself, and grave fears are felt it may reach his heart.

Miss Bennett is now aboard the liner Paris on her way to France, and has been acquainted with the severity of his illness. She plans to speed immediately to his bedside along with the liner docks.

Amanda Farmer Claimed

Albert Van Sickle, 87, Amanda Farmer, died at 1:40 a. m. Tuesday at his home near Amanda. He had been ill two years.

He is survived by four children, Mrs. Lillian Clements Amanda, and Misses Minnie D., Jessie B., and Gail at home.

The funeral will be Thursday at the Evangelical church, Cedar Hill, with burial in Amanda-camp cemetery by Rev. J. W. Van Cleave, Stoutsville.

MARRY PEGGY? NO!

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Reports that Peggy Hopkins Joyce is to become the bride of Peppy D'Albrey are strictly the bunk.

That, at least, is what the handsome young Argentine club manager thinks of it. He said today: "I haven't heard from or seen Miss Joyce since my club closed for the season last June. Miss Joyce is merely a friend of mine."

YOUTH CONFESSES SISTERS' ATTACK

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 4.—The brutal assault on two small girls who were found suffocated in an ice box was solved here today.

Deputy sheriffs declared the girls' 17-year-old brother, Civerno Palma, confessed he mistreated his sisters, Mary, 6, and Mareana, 7, but vigorously denied he locked them in the ice box where they were smothered to death.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Oge, who questioned the youth for several hours when it was learned he had been accused of attempting to assault a young girl some months ago, was inclined to accept the original police theory that the children had climbed into the new ice box as a hiding place in a game of hide-and-seek and accidentally locked the door.

APPLES LEAD THREE TO CELLS IN JAIL

Three south-end youths were in the county jail Tuesday awaiting charges to be filed against them, following their arrest at noon Sunday by Sheriff Charles Radcliff.

Alleged to have stolen apples from the Marion brothers' gardens, Stoutsville, the youths are: Albert Crosby, 23, and Pearl Graham, 19, both of 380 Walnut st., and Virgil Dixon, 17, 894 S. Clinton-st.

100 MORE MOVED TO PRISON ISLE

RICHMOND, Cal., Sept. 4.—One hundred more "bad men" arrived here today from the Leavenworth, Kansas, federal prison. The prisoners were heavily shackled to their seats in a six-car federal convict train which was speedily shunted onto a barge and taken to the Alcatraz Island penitentiary in San Francisco Bay.

Police Court

Several traffic violators and the usual number of liquor imbibers were brought in to Mayor W. B. Cady's police court over the weekend and holiday.

Paul Wallace, N. Court-st., paid a $2 fine for insufficient lighting on his car, and James Smith, colored, Maplewood-ave., dropped $1 into the coffers for disregarding a red light.

Hold Lawyer, of Columbus, who was arrested a month ago near this city for driving while intoxicated, was fined $100 and costs when he pleaded guilty to the charge Saturday. He had been released on bond. He paid $80 and costs and Mayor Cady suspended the remainder.

Alonso Leasure, near this city, for cause, Mrs. Davis was born in Columbus, December 9, 1865, the son of Edward and Sarah Davis. He married Zona Bell Clark in Columbus July 5, 1927.

Besides his widow, he is survived by a brother, John, of Columbus, and a sister, Mrs. John Nesbitt, of Florida.

Funeral services will be held at the Denton-Donaldson chapel, 318 E. Town-st., Columbus, at 3 p. m. Wednesday with interment following in Greenlawn cemetery. Members of the Columbus lodge of Maracahs will serve as pall bearers.

Brother-in-law of Fred Clark is Dead

Edward Davis, 68, brother-in-law of Fred C. Clark, this city died at his home, 980 Nell-ave, Columbus, Sunday, following a three days' illness of complications.

A custodian of the Hubbard-ave school in Columbus for a number of years, Mrs. Davis was born in Columbus, December 9, 1865, the son of Edward and Sarah Davis. He married Zona Bell Clark in Columbus July 5, 1927.

Besides his widow, he is survived by a brother, John, of Columbus, and a sister, Mrs. John Nesbitt, of Florida.

Funeral services will be held at the Denton-Donaldson chapel, 318 E. Town-st., Columbus, at 3 p. m. Wednesday with interment following in Greenlawn cemetery. Members of the Columbus lodge of Maracahs will serve as pall bearers.

The Pontiac sedan of Robert D. Musser, N. Court-st., general manager of the J. W. Eshelman plant here, which was stolen from in front of the Musser residence last Friday evening, was found in Columbus, Sunday. Police Chief Fred Kunda advised local authorities Tuesday.

FILM PRESERVES COLUMBO'S VOICE

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 4.—Friends and relatives of Russ Columbo, whose golden voice thrilled a million women, prepared today to attend an inquest tomorrow into his accidental death.

Shot dead with an old dueling pistol held by his lifelong friend, Lansing Brown, Jr., Hollywood portrait photographer, Columbo's body lay in the county morgue as Hollywood mourned.

Physicians attending Brown, who collapsed, said that he probably would be able to attend the inquest. He was to be the principal witness, and reiterate in detail the story of the tragedy—how he and Columbo sat at a desk in Brown's home, how an old cap and ball pistol with which Brown was toying, suddenly went off, sending a bullet into the brain of the radio favorite.

Brown was to be followed to the stand by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lansing Brown, Sr., who were in the home when the tragedy occurred.

John Columbo, a brother of the singer-actor, will make formal identification.

TO HIS FATHER
It was John who last night broke the tragic news to his 78-year-old father, Nicholas Columbo, one time San Francisco contractor.

Russ was one of 12 children. He lived with his father and mother. The latter is in a Santa Monica hospital, still too ill to be told of her son's death.

The father wondered why Russ didn't come home Sunday night, as he always did. And it was John who told the old man why Russ never would come home again.

The elder Columbo broke down when he heard the news and a physician and nurse were called to attend him.

When the formal inquest is completed funeral arrangements will be made.

Columbo's voice will be heard again. It was preserved on the sound track of a motion picture "Wake Up and Dream," which was previewed Friday night and pronounced a success by newspaper critics.

Long after Russ is buried his voice will be heard singing the hit tune of the picture, "Too Beautiful."

Columbo's name was linked with the names of many women. There was Dorothy Dell, who was killed last spring in a Pasadena automobile accident. At that time she was in the "Follies"—a torch singer. Then there was Hannah Williams, who later married Jack Dempsey.

And when Columbo came to Hollywood there was Sally Blane, the actress, who was waiting outside his room at the hospital when he died.

WITH LOMBARD
More recently he had been going about with Carole Lombard, divorced wife of William Powell.

Closed Banks

The closed bank problem is again forcing inner Administration fiscal quarters.

Long suffering depositors have submitted a new plan to expedite the liquidation of their frozen accounts. They propose that the RFC purchase all remaining assets of those defunct banks which have paid off 50 per cent of their deposit holdings.

The depositors warn that unless the government steps into the situation with this, or some other measure there will soon be nothing left for them to salvage.

Extravagant receiver's ship charges, they assert, rapidly are devouring what little resources are left.

RFC Chairman Jesse Jones, whose conservative-banker mind-ness has repeatedly balked a rapid disposition of the tragic closed-bank problem, is cold to the latest suggestion.

The RFC, he has notified the depositors, feels that it is a better "business proposition" for them to borrow from the Corporation on their assets, instead of selling the assets outright.

The fact that borrowing would continue the expensive receivers was side-stepped by Jesse.

Likewise he forgot the fact that the RFC once was much more liberal regarding a "business proposition" as when it loaned General "Hell-and-Army" Dwyer $90,000,000 and accepted Insull utility stock as part collateral.

Note: Jesse Jones recently admitted that the value of this stock probably never will be realized.

Mail Bag

T. C. South Haven, Mich.—President Roosevelt's usual waking hour is 8 a. m. He breakfasts in bed, and runs through from five to ten newspapers. He is then shaved by his Negro valet, who has been with him many years. He is dressed and on his way to his desk usually about 10 o'clock.

E. D. Ventura, Calif.—Senator William E. Borah will be 70 years old next June. On March 4, 1934, he will have completed 25 years continuous service in the Senate. In length of service he is the dean of both branches of Congress.

S. W. Wilkes Barre, Pa.—Representative Louis T. McFadden has no influence in the House. Few members, even on the Republican side, have much to do with him. His general reputation in the chamber is that of a blatant haranguer, giving to making sensational and extravagant charges.

MR. AND MRS. BELL OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING SUNDAY

An occasion long to be remembered by the family of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Bell was the dinner, Sunday, celebrating the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Bell held at their home near Amanda.

The home was attractive with beautiful baskets of fall flowers. A gold and white color scheme was carried out in the dining room decorations and at the prettily appointed tables. A miniature bride and bridegroom was used on the wedding cake, which centered the table where the honored couple was seated. Covers were laid for ten who were present at the wedding fifty years ago.

Fifty persons enjoyed the delightful occasion and a number of relatives and friends called in the afternoon to extend congratulations and best wishes.

A short program was presented in the afternoon consisting of a reading, "Congratulations," by Marybelle Swick; recitation, "Roofs," by Martha Lee Bell; recitation, "The Big Dog Under the Wagon," by Robert Cromley; remarks by Rev. Reiff; talk W. L. Swick and remarks by Mrs. Reiff.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell's three children, Mrs. Will Swick of Galion, Mrs. Thaddeus Cromley of Ashville, and Miles Bell, this city, were present at the affair, also their eight grandchildren, Robert and Elsie Ann Cromley, Marybelle, Margaret and Ellis Swick, Martha Lee, Betty and Charles Bell.

Others enjoying the day were Mr. and Mrs. Absalom Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Bell, Rev. and Mrs. Reiff, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Conrad, Mrs. Nora Barr, Paul Barr, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barr, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Leist and Mr. and Mrs. Sid Thomas and son, Charles of Amanda; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kiger and daughter, Ethel and Marvene, Sam Bowman, Mrs. Minnie Barr and Orwell Barr, Circleville and vicinity.
